

Your KidLit Library

Resource List

American Indians in Children's Literature: Book reviews and in-depth discussion of critical issues.
<https://americanindiansinchildrensliterature.blogspot.com/>

The Brown Bookshelf: Blog and social media feeds spotlighting Black voices in children's literature.
<https://thebrownbookshelf.com/>

Club Leo (Scholastic): Ask your Scholastic representative about receiving the Club Leo catalog for Spanish-language readers. <https://clubs.scholastic.com/club-leo-en-espanol/>

Colorín Colorado: Resources and lesson planning for bilingual classrooms and families.
<https://www.colorincolorado.org/>

KidLit Pride: A virtual Queer kidlit pride festival <http://kidlitpride.com/about-us/>

Latinx KidLit Book Festival: a large-scale online festival, affiliated with Latinx middle-grade and young adult author collective Las Musas. <https://www.latinxkidlitbookfestival.com/>

Latinxs in KidLit: A blog featuring reviews and interviews with Latinx authors:
<https://latinosinkidlit.com/>

Lee & Low Books: Multicultural children's book publisher; blog and social media feeds feature extensive educator & parent resources. Also consider using the Classroom Library assessment in your home or school <https://www.leeandlow.com/>

Project LIT Community: Diverse book club for middle and high school readers, consider bringing a chapter to your school and follow online for diverse book suggestions from teens and tweens.
<https://twitter.com/ProjectLITComm>

We Need Diverse Books: Industry advocacy group; resources page lists many more websites and blogs: <https://diversebooks.org/resources/where-to-find-diverse-books/>

Hispanic versus Latine/x:

Watch the highlighted story on my Instagram page for an explanation:
<https://www.instagram.com/emma.otheGuy/>

Read Terry Blas's comic: <https://www.vox.com/2015/8/19/9173457/hispanic-latino-comic>

Questions about anything that was said (or unsaid) during your session? Have a suggestion for this list? Email emma.otheGuy@gmail.com!